
Development Course Catalog 2018

Updated March 7, 2018

Introduction to Development Courses

Subject matter for each class has been specifically identified to help develop faith in, and knowledge of, our Lord and Savior. The format will be presented in four quarters through the year; several different classes will be offered each quarter, and class attendees will have an opportunity to learn from different instructors, meet new people in the different classes, and enjoy a variety of Biblically-based subject matter.

Philippians 1:9- And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment...

This initiative is part of our Care, Connect and Challenge mission, making disciples who make disciples, and is consistent with the Micro Church program which is designed to encourage and challenge believers to live out their faith and share the Good News.

1 Peter 3:15- always be ready to give an answer to anyone who asks about the hope you possess.

Heart of why you teach

Keith Schoettmer - I've been teaching Sunday school at Cicero Christian Church for over 10 years. I love the challenge of keeping class interesting and sharing God's word with other Christians, regardless of where they are in their walk. I firmly believe that the only way we can truly appreciate and understand the heart of Christ is to dive into His word with regular, disciplined study.

Jim Doyle - I have a passion for developing people, particularly in discipleship and mentoring. I was a certified trainer of Situational Self Leadership for Ken Blanchard (One Minute Manager) Training & Development, and have developed and led numerous Bible studies, lectures and sermons. Kathy and I worked in a ministry partnership for over forty years with Cursillo, Tres Dias, Great Banquet, Walk to Emmaus and other discipleship kickoff ministries to fulfill a call to build the church up for works of service. And...I love to teach.

John Knapp – I have enjoyed teaching SS for years the first thing I do is to pray for the Holy Spirit to guide and direct me that I will be able to reach out and touch someone with the Word of God.

Darin Lawson - Over the last several years, I've been more of a student than a teacher. I have been blessed to have received Bible teaching from many highly-regarded pastors and professors in various Christian disciplines. I am encouraged to share that blessing with others as we continue our process of sanctification, through learning and through leading, in studies of the Word.

Tom Strauss - I feel that God has placed in my heart a passion for financial issues. Since becoming a Christian in 1998, I've been seeking God's will for my own finances. I feel He has used the circumstances in my life to give me something unique to share. To me, it's only natural that I would share what I've learned. The Bible contains over 2,000 verses that deal with money and possessions. There's a reason He talks about it so much: many people, including Christians, struggle with their finances. God knew this would be true, and said that "no one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and wealth" (Matthew 6:24, NASB). But most of us don't realize the importance He places on this area of our lives. My passion is to help change that.

Romans Part II

Led by: Keith Schoettmer

9a – first service in room 107

Summary of the Class

Paul's primary theme in Romans is the basic gospel, God's plan of salvation and righteousness for all mankind, Jew and Gentile alike. His purposes for writing this letter were (1) to present the basic system of salvation to a church that had not received the teaching of an apostle before, (2) to explain the relationship between Jew and Gentile in God's overall plan of redemption and (3) to prepare the way for his coming visit to Rome.

Paul shows how the believer is freed from sin, law and death, a provision made possible by his union with Christ in both death and resurrection, and by the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit. He then shows that Israel too, though presently in a state of unbelief, has a place in God's sovereign redemptive plan. Currently she consists of only a remnant, allowing for the conversion of the Gentiles, but the time will come when "all Israel will be saved." (11:26) The letter concludes with an appeal to the readers to work out their Christian faith in practical ways, both in the church and in the world. None of Paul's other letters states so profoundly the content of the gospel and its implications for both the present and the future. It is one of the most complete theological themes on sin, salvation, grace, faith, righteousness, justification, sanctification, redemption, death and resurrection.

We will cover as much of these themes as is possible in 24 weeks, broken into the first two quarters of 2018. As we go, we will always discuss their applications for us today in the world in which we live.

Unraveling the Mystery of the Holy Spirit

Led by: Jim Doyle

9a – first service in room 133

Summary of the Class

One of the most neglected subjects in the Bible is the work of the Holy Spirit in the life of the believer. You'd think that as important as that subject is more people would be talking about it and more people would be referring to the Holy Spirit.

Unfortunately, many associate Him with speaking in tongues, which continues today to scare people off from learning more about Him. And some are driven away by those who act “weird” when they claim to be “caught up” in the Holy Spirit.

It is so crystal clear in the Scripture that you cannot live a godly life nor serve the Lord adequately without the guidance and help of the Holy Spirit. And you certainly cannot understand the truths of God's word apart from the Holy Spirit. Jesus Himself relied fully on the Holy Spirit while He walked this earth in the flesh.

This study is designed to help us understand why we need to better know the person and work of the Holy Spirit. Come learn why it is so important and what you can do to unravel the mystery of the Holy Spirit in your own life as you seek and find His help in a proper and orderly way every waking moment.

Spring Quarter April 8 – June 24, 2018

Standard Lesson Commentary

Led by: John Knapp
10:30a- second service in room 133

Summary of the Class

Each quarter contains 13 weeks of lessons, including verse-by-verse Bible exposition, discussion questions, and ready to use resources to enhance study.

Spring Quarter April 8 – June 24, 2018

As It Is Written

Led by: Darin Lawson
10:30a- second service in room 107

Summary of the Class

We will use a variety of media and resources to study numerous prophecies in the Old Testament pointing to Jesus, as well as examine the Old Testament references – “...as it is written...” used by Jesus and the other New Testament writers. We will also study Judaism and Jewish culture in the time of Jesus, as well as Jewish influence on Christianity.
